Urban Renewal Reveals Weakness of Assessments

What the federal government pays for property in the condemnation proceedings now going on in Hope is a public record. And we are printing it. Also on public record at the courthouse is the dollar figure at which each of these condemned properties is assessed for local tax purposes. And we are printing this also.

The state government, which requires all counties to assess property at not less than 18 per cent of its true value or face reduction in its share of state turnback funds, says Hempstead is assessed above 18 per cent.

But our first returns on urban renewal property, published today, show an assessing average of only 9 per cent.

If this is true of city property, the highest rung on the assessment stepladder, I leave it to your imagination what the real figure is for the whole county.

Contrary to what some property owners think, I am not a high tax advocate. The only purpose behind our generation-long fight for honest assessments is tax justice. High assessments mean a low millage figure. If the assessment law were vigorously enforced today's millage would be drastically reduced.

My educated guess is that the upcoming figures from the federal condemnations will show residential property assessed more fairly than commercial property.

I am not a promoter of urban renewal—in fact I am opposed to it, but after several editorial attacks failed to rally protests from the public I have let it ride. But urban renewal does offer a golden opportunity to get at the facts of Arkansas' wretched voluntary assessment system. And we are printing them.

Our own figures have been published on several occasions. The Star Building following its reconstruction in 1955 was on our books for $40,000, and I turned in an assessment of $8,070—20.1 per cent.

Our printing plant—personal property—is assessed at $10,060, a small fraction of what it cost; and yet it was at the time of filing the fourth largest personal property assessment in the county.

I should warn you that unless we do something about low assessments on real property big trouble is headed our way from Washington. The heavily-assessed Eastern states are crying for federal relief of property owners and such bills are already in the Congress.

These bills would propose prorata relief for property owners in all the states—but you can expect at the same time a federal examination of what Arkansas property owners are actually paying. . . . and we will get the tax relief axe . . . of all us.

Newspaper people aren't the only ones who have to own up to an error—but Harry Shiver does it by telephone. Earlier this week Harry told me downtown that The Star's planned excursion to Blanchard Springs Caverns this week-end would bear reconsideration. "Because they don't have any elevators running in the caverns as yet." Next day he telephoned the office and said his wife, Mary, told him he was wrong—they do have elevators, and they are running. "Who am I," said Harry, "to argue with my wife."

Climaxing a year of fun and learning, Brownie Troop No. 60 took a ride on the Reader Railroad. Expenses for the trip were paid with money the girls made selling calendars last fall.

Urban Renewal Purchases Assessed at 9 Per Cent

Urban Renewal property purchases, of which the first three were made this month, show tax assessments running on the average of 9 per cent of market value.

State law requires a 20 per cent assessment, but an 18 per cent level is acceptable, according to the Hempstead County Tax Assessor's Office.

The state government has certified Hempstead county as being assessed above the minimum 18 per cent.

The first purchase by the Housing Authority involved the property of Mrs. Ida J. Sims at 112 West 6th Street. The property is being renovated and will be used as a project site office by the housing relocation and rehabilitation state.

Mrs. Sims received $6,000 for her property which is assessed on the Hempstead County tax books at $850 or 14 per cent of the amount received.

The Housing Authority paid $6,950 to the Mary Mills Estate for a downtown building next to Hope Star. This property, in two parcels, is assessed on the tax books at $535 or 7.6 per cent of the purchase price.

The Authority paid $24,207 to the Kathryn Lauterbach Estate for property on South Main across from Branch Hospital. Hempstead tax books show the property, also in two parcels assessed at a total of $1,365 or 5.6 per cent of the purchase price.

Kleindienst Learns Today If Committee Will Endorse Him

By TOM SEPPY

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — After eight weeks of waiting, Richard G. Kleindienst learns today whether the Senate Judiciary Committee will vote again to endorse his nomination to be attorney general.

Kleindienst, now acting attorney general after three years as the Justice Department's No. 2 man, probably will have to wait until the end of the day before finding out if the committee still favors letting him replace John N. Mitchell as the nation's top law-enforcement officer.

The committee decided Wednesday after closed-door debate to recall Kleindienst as a witness in an effort to iron out some of the inconsistencies in testimony taken since the hearings opened March 2.

The panel also agreed to submit a written report to Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield by 5 p.m. today.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., described the committee action as a compromise between Republicans backing Kleindienst and Democrats who say his role in the out-of-court settlement of three antitrust cases against International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. makes him unfit for the Cabinet post.

The committee approved the nomination unanimously in late February and sent it to the full Senate for action.

However, Kleindienst asked the committee to reopen the hearings after syndicated columnist Jack Anderson published a memo, purportedly written by ITT lobbyist Dita Beard, linking the antitrust settlement with the conglomerate's financial contribution to the city of San Diego for this summer's Republican National Convention.

Kleindienst disavowed any connection between the settlement and the convention commitment.

The vote to recall Kleindienst came after the committee rejected proposals by Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and John V. Tunney, D-Calif., to have the committee hear from at least 14 other witnesses, some of whom have testified previously.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., attempted to include White House aide Peter Flanagan but was defeated, 8 to 6.

Votes to Table Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Arkansas congressmen voted Wednesday in favor of tabling a measure that would force President Nixon to give Congress detailed information on Indochina war operations.

The measure was tabled on a 270-113 vote.

Voting for the motion to table were Reps. Bill Alexander, John Paul Hammerschmidt and Wilbur D. Mills.

Rep. David Pryor was absent and did not vote.

Muskie Calls It Quits in Primaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund Muskie, who let one of the biggest head starts in the history of presidential politics get away from him, announced today he will stop running but isn't giving up hopes for the Democratic nomination.

The Maine senator, who had been a clear-cut frontrunner for two years, said he was withdrawing from future primaries. He cited lack of funds.

Muskie said he was withdrawing with regret but had no choice. "I do not have the money to continue," he said.

"However, I do not withdraw my candidacy," Muskie said, reminding that his name would be on the ballot in several primary states.

But Muskie said he would not hold his supporters in those states to stick by him in the future months leading up to the July 10 Democratic National Convention.

People already committed to support him in primaries and state conventions "should feel free to reassess their commitments," he said.

Muskie, who has described himself as "everybody's second choice," apparently switched to a strategy that would make him a compromise candidate at the convention in the event of a deadlock.

Apparently Muskie intends to hold on to the 128½ delegate votes he has won in the early primaries and in state-level caucuses and conventions. With his name remaining on the ballot, he stands a chance of adding to this strength even without active campaigning.

Muskie had been the front-runner in delegate strength, despite his primary setbacks, until Tuesday when George McGovern beat him in Massachusetts and Hubert Humphrey upset him in Pennsylvania where he had been the choice of Gov. Milton Shapp.

McGovern now almost doubles Muskie in delegates with 235½ and Humphrey is closing with 80. George Wallace has 77.

Showers in State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Showers moved into Arkansas Wednesday night and early today as a low pressure center and an associated cold front crept closer to the state.

The National Weather Service said the low pressure system was located over Kansas this morning with a cold front trailing into Mexico.

Southerly winds to the east of the low and on the back side of a high over the eastern states have pumped moist Gulf air into the midsection of the nation.

The moisture-laden air is expected to produce heavy rain in western Arkansas today and tonight.

Temperatures were expected to continue cool through Friday with highs in the 60s and low 70s today and Friday and the lows tonight in the 50s to mid 60s.

Highs Wednesday ranged from 50 degrees at Harrison to 59 at Texarkana.

Overnight lows included 50 at Fayetteville, 50 at Harrison, 50 at Jonesboro 57 at Pine Bluff, 55 at Texarkana, 55 at El Dorado, 50 at Memphis, 51 at Little Rock and 52 at Fort Smith.

Burglary Charges Filed

Burglary charges were filed Wednesday against Billy Ray Cox of Hope. Bond has been set at $3,000.

Cox is charged with breaking and entering the Hope Hardware Co. early Wednesday morning. Entrance to the building was made through a skylight. City Officers Carl Ward and John Shirley made the arrest.

U.S. Calls on Hanoi to End Its Invasion

By DAVID MASON

Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — The United States today demanded North Vietnam end its invasion of South Vietnam. But North Vietnam retorted it was "utterly absurd" to claim there is such an invasion.

Speaking at the Vietnam peace talks, resumed after a five-week break, North Vietnamese delegate Xuan Thuy charged it is the United States that "is conducting a war of aggression in Vietnam."

U.S. delegate William J. Porter had called on North Vietnam to "agree to end your invasion and commence the withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam."

Porter warned, however that unless the Communists discuss the invasion and other related questions, the United States will break off the talks.

"The world is waiting," he told Thuy, "to hear how you reconcile this invasion . . . with your protestations of good will and of a desire to seek peace at this table . . ."

"The question for you to answer today is whether you are prepared, as a first item of business, to discuss measures which will put an end to this invasion."

Porter added: "I proposed specifically that you agree to end your invasion and commence the withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam. Obviously, if concrete progress on that score can be achieved, there could be a corresponding reduction in . . . our retaliatory response to that invasion."

Porter warned the North Vietnamese: "It will not be practical to hold meetings if you continue to refuse to deal with the substance of both the present invasion and general problems of peace, including prisoners of war and those missing in action . . ."

Hanoi has contended the U.S. charge of a North Vietnamese invasion of the South is false.

Thuy told newsmen as he arrived for the session that Politburo member Le Duc Tho "will soon be in Paris."

Nixon Will Continue Troop Pullout and Bombing Raids

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon plans to pull another 20,000 GIs out of Vietnam by July 1—and to keep on bombing North Vietnam until Hanoi halts its "massive invasion" of the South.

Announcing this in a 17-minute radio-TV address Wednesday night, Nixon appealed for nationwide support against what he termed "this final challenge" to his program to get U.S. troops out of South Vietnam without "surrendering our friends to Communist aggression."

Nixon portrayed the current all-out Communist offensive in the South as a time of test in which Saigon forces—if they get continued U.S. air and naval help—will foil a desperate Hanoi gamble.

His new two-month withdrawal schedule will cut remaining U.S. forces in South Vietnam to 49,000, which he noted was less than 10 per cent of the 549,000 authorized there when he took office in January 1969.

The enemy's "one remaining hope," Nixon said in words aimed at stateside critics, "is to win in the Congress of the United States, and among the people of the United States, the victory they cannot win among the people of South Vietnam or on the battlefield in South Vietnam."

"The South Vietnamese have made great progress and are now bearing the brunt of the battle," he said. "We can now see the day when no more Americans will be involved there at all . . ."

"We must not falter. For all that we have risked and all that we have gained over the years now hangs in the balance during the coming weeks and months."

Nixon couched tough words about Hanoi's battlefield campaign—"a victory they cannot be allowed to win"—with a warning to enemy negotiators against "more empty propaganda" in the Paris peace talks resuming today.

Referring to his renewal of the Paris parley, which he had broken off March 23, Nixon said:

"We are resuming the Paris talks with the firm expectation that productive talks leading to rapid progress will follow through all available channels."

Telephone customers in Hope and Bodcaw will begin receiving their 1972 telephone directories April 29, with delivery to continue through May 2.

"More than 7,840 copies of the two-column directory will be mailed," said Manager Jack Bayles of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Customers in Bodcaw are listed separately in the back of the directory.

The new directory cover features a color photo of the sun setting on an Arkansas lake, representing one of the state's greatest resources, our natural environment.

In addition to copies for mailing, hundreds of extra directories were printed for new customers during the year and for distribution to libraries, telephone offices and customers elsewhere.

Bayles advised customers to discard old directories as soon as they receive the new one.

Candidate Asks for Tax Reform

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Congressional candidate Richard Arnold of Texarkana said Wednesday that taxes "should be reformed so the burden is more fairly spread."

Arnold, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for 4th District congressman, said in an interview that people expect to pay taxes, "but they expect to get their money's worth and they're not."

On another subject, Arnold said "most people are talking about government in a tone of distrust." He said government has become "too far away from people and people no longer have faith in the government, particularly on the federal level."

Apollo 16 Returns to Earth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ABOARD USS TICONDEROGA (AP) — Apollo 16's three explorers returned to earth today, splashing down in the Pacific Ocean to end a lunar voyage that should vastly enrich man's knowledge of the moon.

John W. Young, Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II brought home a record 245 pounds of rocks and other data they feel might contain the volcanic evidence they sought when they started out 11 days ago.

Their command ship Casper hit the water about 175 miles southeast of Christmas Island and about 1,500 miles south of Hawaii. It survived a blazing 13-minute re-entry through the earth's atmosphere during which temperatures of more than 4,000 degrees blistered the protective heat shield.

The astronauts were to be lifted by helicopter to this carrier for a medical examination and two nights of rest as the ship steamed toward Hawaii.

The thickening atmosphere and parachutes slowed the speed of Casper from 24,600 miles an hour to 22 miles an hour for the touchdown in calm Pacific waters.

The splashdown ended man's fifth and perhaps most scientifically significant journey to the surface of the moon.

Three hours earlier, some 27,600 miles from earth, the astronauts briefly triggered jet engines for four seconds to zero in on the landing target.

As the 12-million-mile voyage neared an end, the astronauts held a news conference Wednesday in a final telecast to Mission Control from their command ship Casper.

"We've seen as much in 10 days as most people in 10 lifetimes," Young said.

Answering questions prepared by newsmen at the space center, Duke and Mattingly reported seeing features which could have been carved by volcanoes

Over $1 Billion

U.S. Trade Deficit

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. balance of trade languished in deficit again in March, sending this year's red ink in the nation's trade accounts well over $1 billion despite Nixon administration efforts to reduce it.

The Commerce Department prepared to release March trade figures today, but an official disclosed beforehand that the deficit is not much better than February's red ink of $597.6 million.

Already, for January and February, the value of imports to the United States has exceeded exports by $916.4 million. The nation last year recorded its first yearly trade deficit of this century, about $2 billion.

A persistent trade deficit adds to the nation's balance-of-payments problems, reflects on the ability of American industry to compete abroad, and puts pressure on the dollar's stability overseas.

The deficit was so bad last year that President Nixon launched a new economic policy and suspended the nation's pledge to convert dollars into gold.

For the last several months, the administration has blamed the large deficits on distortions caused by a lingering dock strike. But the March deficit was recorded after the strike was over.

The administration expects the deficit to linger for several months but anticipates gradual improvements and even a "fighting chance" of a small 1972 surplus, the department said.

On Capitol Hill, the House Ways and Means Committee may open hearings on protective trade legislation because of mounting complaints that U.S. industries are suffering from foreign competition.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills said in an interview. "Something has to be done. Too many companies are saying they are being driven to the wall."

Mills has generally preferred voluntary agreements to more-stringent protective measures such as import quotas. Treasury Secretary John B. Connally has said the administration opposes strict protectionist legislation.

The United States was accustomed to big trade surpluses until the situation worsened in 1971.

Now, administration officials say the trade deficit may be affected by the recent currency realignment in which the dollar was devalued and several other key currencies revalued.

In Germany

Brandt Wins a Round

By ROON LEWALD
Associated Press Writer
BONN, Germany (AP) — A jubilant Willy Brandt today beat back an opposition attempt in parliament to oust him as chancellor, scoring a personal victory and safeguarding his peace policy.

Opposition challengers failed by two votes to win a no-confidence motion on Brandt, in a dramatic vote in the Bundestag, parliament's lower house. The opposition won 247 votes but needed 249 of the 496 members.

Brandt's triumph cleared the way for ratification next week of his nonaggression treaties with Moscow and Warsaw—vital for the whole course of his policy of easing East-West tension.

The challenge to Brandt was led by Rainer Barzel, leader of the Christian Democrats against the chancellor's coalition of Social Democrats and Free Democrats.

Bundestag President Kai Uwe von Hassel announced that 260 votes were cast. Brandt had called on his supporters to abstain on the vote as a maneuver to spotlight any Social or Free Democrats who might go down to the voting urns to cast ballots. The implication was that they were reneging on their party obligations.

Von Hassel said 10 delegates voted "no" to the resolution and there were three abstentions. The outcome was viewed as a great victory for Brandt and a serious defeat for the young, ambitious Barzel. But Defense Minister Helmut Schmidt, the deputy leader of Brandt's Social Democratic party, said the prospect for ratification next week of the chancellor's nonaggression treaties with the Soviet Union and Poland "is as difficult now as before."

Schmidt said he was certain that two members of the government parties voted against Brandt while one Christian Democrat sided with him.

Former Chancellor Kurt George Kiesinger led the attack on Brandt in the debate before the vote and based it on opposition to the two treaties, which recognize Germany's territorial losses at the end of World War II.

The Christian Democrats contend that the treaties, which are crucial to the improvement of relations between West Germany and the Soviet Bloc, gave away too much without getting enough in return. Kiesinger said the Socialist chancellor should be repudiated because the treaties had neither a parliamentary majority nor a popular majority among the German people.

Board Grants Charter

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A charter was granted Wednesday by the state Savings and Loan Board, on a vote of 4-0, to the proposed Northwest Savings and Loan Association at Rogers. The board also approved applications by two associations in nearby towns to open branch offices in Rogers.

Two associations that opposed the charter sought by Northwest — Springdale Savings and Loan Association and Liberty Savings and Loan Association — had filed applications to put branch offices at Rogers.

A number of political figures were involved in the fight over location of a new savings and loan association in Rogers, which was described in the two-day hearing by the board as being in the fastest growing area of the state.

Five legislators and a former executive secretary to Gov. Dale Bumpers are among the stockholders for the new association. Area political leaders also were involved with the competing firms.

Bumpers Endorsed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers received Wednesday an endorsement for re-election from the Arkansas Political Action Committee for Education (PACE), which was formed last December under the aegis of the Arkansas Education Association.

A statement from the committee, which has 15 members, said the endorsement was based on the conviction that public education in Arkansas has made progress during Bumpers' first term.

Living in Boston Costly

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — New Labor Department figures show Boston has overtaken New York as the third most expensive city for medium-budget American families.

Anchorage retains a firm grip on first place, and Honolulu holds second despite some relative slippage. Small Southern cities remain the cheapest urban places to live.

These are among the findings of the Bureau of Labor Statistics' urban family budgets, updated Wednesday for the first time in a year and a half.

During that time the national average cost of maintaining an intermediate standard of living for a family of four rose 2.9 per cent to $10,971 a year.

The cost of a more austere standard rose 3.5 per cent to $7,214, and the cost of a higher standard, providing more comfort and luxuries, rose 2.5 per cent to $15,905.

Consumer prices rose 6.3 per cent during the same period, but lower income taxes helped keep total budget costs down.

The lower budget provides for rental housing without air conditioning and meals that are nutritious but feature mostly low-cost meat and meat substitutes.

The higher budget provides for a higher rate of home ownership, a new car every four years for most families and more and better food, clothing, furniture and household appliances.

The figures are updated to last fall. Previous figures were for the spring, 1970.

During that time the costs of an intermediate budget in Anchorage remained at a solid 136 per cent of the national average. Honolulu slipped from 120 to 119. Fourth-place Boston shot up from 113 to 117, overtaking third-place New York, where relative costs went up more slowly from 114 to 115.

Places where costs now match the national average are Baltimore, Los Angeles, Kansas City, St. Louis and Green Bay, Wis.

Lowest urban costs were recorded in Southern towns of from 2,500 to 50,000 population. They averaged only 84 per cent of the national norm. Other low-cost cities included Austin, Tex., 86 per cent; Orlando, Fla., 88; and Atlanta, 89.

The department gives no figures for farm areas.

The Labor Department says it has no measures of income that are precisely appropriate to compare to the three budgets. One widely used measure of income, average weekly earnings for rank-and-file production workers, stood at $131.73 last month, or almost $6,850 for a full work year. This is $365 below the department's lower budget, sometimes called an austerity or subsistence budget.

FAA Considers Security Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Federal Aviation Administration official told Arkansas airport managers Wednesday that the FAA would be reasonable when it considers security plans for their airports.

James D. Ragsdale of Fort Worth, Tex., chief of the Air Transportation Security Division of the FAA, made the remark in a meeting with airport managers to discuss problems the managers face in implementing security recommendations of the FAA.

Ragsdale said the agency would take into consideration the problems of financing and local legislation that might be required to implement some of the recommendations.

He did say that the airports will be responsible for proper fencing of the airport area and for keeping unauthorized personnel and vehicles out of the operational sections of their facilities.

Cities represented at the meeting were Little Rock, Jonesboro, Hot Springs, El Dorado, Fayetteville, Fort Smith, Pine Bluff and Harrison.

Highway Safety

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Improvement has been made in several areas of highway safety in the state since the compilation of a study critical of the state's highways safety standards, an official of the Arkansas Highway Safety Program said Wednesday.

Billy G. Pierce, administrative assistant to the state highway safety coordinator, said Arkansas ranked relatively high in its over-all highway safety program.

Pierce said the federal evaluation was based on statistics and information gathered in 1971 and that the state had made progress since then in medical emergency services. He said ambulance projects had received federal funds in Arkansas and he thought the state would now rate about 85 out of 100 points. The state had received a zero out of a possible 100 points in emergency medical services, one of 16 categories.

Women's Fellowship Day will be held by all women of all churches in Hope on May 5 beginning at 2 p.m. in the First Baptist Church. This is the second such ecumenical meeting of the church women of Hope, as the first one was held at the First Presbyterian Church last year.

It is hoped to make it an annual meeting. Mrs. J.W. Manney of the First United Methodist Church will be the principal speaker at the May 5 worship service, and the Handbell choir of the First Baptist Church will be featured in several musical selections. The committee that is completing plans for Women's Fellowship Day is composed of Mrs. J.V. Moore, Jr., Mrs. Mel Thrash and Mrs. Terrell Martin.

THE GENERATION RAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

X-Movies for Toddlers?

DEAR HELEN AND SUE:

We got married young. I'm 21, and my wife is 18. Now that she can get into X-rated movies, we still can't go because they won't let us bring our kid who is nearly three but big for her age, and looks about five.

If we pay for a baby-sitter, we can't afford the movie. Now what would a three-year-old get out of a sexy picture? I tell the cashier she'll sleep through most of it, but no, we can't get in.

Why don't theater owners use some sense?—GARY

DEAR GARY:

Why don't the three of you toddle on down the street and see a less raunchy picture? You might even enjoy it.—HELEN AND SUE

P.S. Read on:

DEAR RAP:

I have just begun my third season as a cashier for a very reputable drive-in theater. The few times we have shown X-rated films, you wouldn't believe what took place!

No one under 18 is supposed to be admitted, right? Well, the first night of this one skin flick, we turned away as many cars as we admitted. The second night people started complaining to the manager: "My child is only four, he won't know what's going on..." "Susie will sleep through it..." "You can't be serious—why, he's only a baby!"

Some even tried to get their 12-year-old children in, saying they had no place to leave them. Don't they realize a manager can have his license taken away if he breaks the code?

We don't book X-films often because they cause too much conflict—not from shocked people, but from those who want to get in and don't make it.—AL

DEAR HELEN AND SUE:

I have a girl friend who searches through all our cabinets and drawers in the kitchen. When she finds candy or snacks, etc.—even expensive nuts—she helps herself, usually eating them all.

We hate to see her coming, and hide things, but she's a super-snooper. I try to explain that this isn't her house, but her mother and mine are best friends, and we don't want to cause a feud. She figures whatever is ours is hers.

Yet when I go to her house, she doesn't even offer me food, but instead just eats in front of me. If I opened her refrigerator, her mother would hit the fan. I know—because I did once, just to show this girl. But she didn't take the hint. Her Mom thinks she's an angel, and I'm the bad one.

What can we do?—NEEDING LOCKS OR MOUSETRAPS

DEAR NLOM:

Q. I have been employed as a waitress for several weeks in a restaurant just recently opened for business. I receive a straight salary and tips in this employment. Shouldn't my tips be reported and if so, how do I accomplish this?

A. Cash tips are covered by social security and reportable if they amount to $20 or more in a month with one employer. If your tips amount to $20 or more in a month, you must give your employer a written report of the amount of your tips within ten days after the month in which you receive them. At this time, your employer will be able to collect the social security tax due on these tips from other wages he owes you or you may wish to furnish him with the funds for this purpose.

Q. I will be self-employed in the very near future in a retail business and am considering employing my wife to keep the books instead of hiring someone else. Will her earnings be covered by social security?

A. No. Any work performed by a wife for her husband or by a husband for his wife is not covered under social security.

Q. I understand social security pays benefits to students after they become age 18. How long do these benefits continue?

A. Student's benefits may continue until age 22 unless the student marries or stops full time school attendance. Payments continue during a vacation period of not more than four months. The students are entitled if one of their parents is receiving retirement or disability payments from social security, or if a parent is deceased and survivor benefits are payable.

A mousetrap might not be a bad idea—if you didn't forget and spring it on yourself. Better yet—your mother should take a tip from her friend and get tough—real tough!—HELEN

Notes in those hiding places saying, "Sorry, snoopy, we're fresh out," might help; but, really, the best way to deal with someone who takes over your house is with a showdown. It's time Mama learned her angel— isn't!—SUE

DEAR SUE AND HELEN:

You said it was okay by you if a man wore his wedding ring on his little finger. But you should have added—TAKE IT OFF while working! My finger was almost pulled off when my ring got caught in machinery. Another time I was burned from shorting a car battery through my ring. Men have been killed when their rings catch on moving wheels, etc. If a woman loves her husband she'll make him leave that ring at home!—GUY

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The three national television networks have unveiled during the past few days their fall plans for children's programming. Each has nine or 10 shows blocked into Saturday morning periods. Since this area of programming has been under attack by television's critics, the announcements were made with some fanfare and a show of concern.

Don Durgin, president of NBC, spoke of "a continuing process of revision and experimentation... designed to upgrade what has been described as young children's prime-time—Saturday morning."

CBS's director of children's programming, Allen Ducovny, announced with pride that Bill Cosby would appear in an "innovative children series" which will attempt "to deal with issues related to values and value judgments, interpersonal relationship and solutions of problems faced by children." The program's title seemed something of a come-down after that, "Fat Albert and the Cosby Kids."

Mitchell D. Eisner, ABC vice president in charge of daytime programming, explained that their kiddie-show schedule was "a further extension of our commitment to present quality entertainment."

The heckling over the years about Saturday morning children's shows—it once was a string of old theatrical cartoon shorts—has resulted generally in programs of much more subdued mood. The networks have also appointed advisory panels and executives to oversee children's shows, and they have developed special entertainment programs with thinly disguised educational aspects.

Last season Walter Cronkite narrated "You Are There," a series dramatizing some great moments of history. NBC's flagship children's show was "Take a Giant Step" which won a Peabody Award—and will be cut to half an hour next season. ABC continues to turn out "Make a Wish," which also won a Peabody.

Public broadcasting's "Sesame Street" was so enthusiastically acclaimed when it appeared two seasons back that, more than anything else, it stimulated the commercial networks to improve programming. This season, public broadcasting stations added "The Electric Company" and "Zoom" to their stockpile of children's shows.

In any event, the new schedules do not appear to be composed entirely of educational good works. The vast majority of shows are still designed to amuse. ABC includes "Funky Phantom," a cartoon show about a kind-hearted ghost. NBC will continue to show "Underdog" and "The Pink Panther." CBS has renewed "Sabrina the Teen-age Witch" and "The Archies."

Knicks Blast Lakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
To the Los Angeles Lakers the first game of the National Basketball Association's championship series was a bomb—more precisely, a Jerry Lucas bomb.

Lucas, the New York Knickerbockers' center, went outside—way outside—to shoot against the Lakers' disorganized defense. His long, arching bombs blasted the net as the Knicks exploded for a 114-92 victory Wednesday night in the first game of the best-of-seven series.

Bill Bradley scored 29 points for the Knicks and hit 11 of 12 shots but Lucas' performance at 26 points was the key. The former Ohio State All-American led the New York attack in the first half when the Knicks hit 72 per cent from the floor for a 67-49 lead. They were never seriously challenged in the second half.

The Lakers, Pacific Division and Western Conference champions, could not get a consistent performance from any of the players. Gail Goodrich hit his first six shots and scored 16 points in the first quarter. He finished with 20, the team high.

Los Angeles has been in the NBA playoffs in 10 of the past 12 years but has never won a league crown. The Knicks defeated the Lakers in seven games for the title in 1970.

Among veteran Lakers who have suffered through the team's playoff woes are Jerry West and Bill Chamberlain.

Chamberlain didn't challenge Lucas' outside shooting early in the game when the 6-foot-8 Knick was at his bombs-away best with nine baskets in 11 attempts from 20 to 30 feet.

Chamberlain got 19 rebounds. Dave DeBusschere scored 19 points for the Knicks as well as getting 18 rebounds. Jim McMillan got 14 points, the second high for Los Angeles.

The second game of the series is scheduled for Sunday and will be televised nationally.

The seventh and deciding game of the Indiana-Utah series will be played Monday night in Salt Lake City, where the Stars have won their three games in the series.

The Pacers' high scorer was Mel Daniels with only 20 points but his teammates backed him well with George McGinnis and Darnell Hillman each getting 16 and Roger Brown 15. Willie Wise and Zelmo Beaty led Utah with 30 and 23 points, respectively. Daniels sat out most of the third period in foul trouble but still managed 18 rebounds.

Utah led 55-53 at halftime and Indiana did not grab the lead for good until late in the third period at 75-74.

It also was a time of squaring their series for the New York Nets, who lost two games badly against Virginia in the Squires' court. The Nets put the Squires in a hole early and led 63-52 at halftime with Rick Barry leading the way, finishing with 33 points.

The Squires pulled within four points, 108-104, with 3:17 to play. The Nets got a quick basket and managed to increase their lead in the final moments.

John Roche, just returned from an injured ankle, scored 24 for New York, which also got 18 from Bill Melchionni and 16 from Bill Paulitz. Julius Erving led Virginia with 27 points and 23 rebounds. Bernie Williams had 24 for the Squires.

The fifth game of the series is scheduled for Saturday afternoon in a national telecast from Hampton, Va.

AM&N Is Suspended

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas AM&N College has been suspended by District 17 of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) from athletic participation with other members of District 17.

The district includes members of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference, John Brown University and the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.

The AIC recently suspended AM&N from athletic competition for the 1972-73 season.

The AIC took the action because of incidents at AM&N home games and a disturbance at a basketball game in the District 17 playoffs at Arkadelphia earlier this year. AM&N supporters were blamed for the disturbance.

Auburn Smith, chairman of District 17, said the action of the district's executive committee had been approved by the NAIA Executive Committee. He said the suspension would last "until such time as the District 17 NAIA Executive Committee and Arkansas AM&N feel that normal athletic relations can be resumed."

Smith said the committee "acknowledged that the suspension can be lifted as soon as Arkansas AM&N has demonstrated that competition can be resumed under normal athletic conditions."

The AM&N Athletic Committee has voted to withdraw from the AIC. The school's Board of Trustees has postponed voting on the proposal and has asked the AIC for a complete report on the conference's disciplinary action.

Cubs Couldn't Break the Law

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Don't put the winning run on base.

Not when the game is tied.

Not when it's in extra innings.

And especially not when you're the visiting team.

That's one of the unwritten laws of baseball.

The Chicago Cubs decided to break the law Wednesday night—and they got busted for it.

The Cubs, reeling under the weight of a seven-game losing streak, were employing this bit of unsound strategy in Houston as they tried to overhaul the streaking Astros.

Deadlocked 4-4 in the bottom of the 10th inning, reliever Dan McGinn got the first two Astros, including Jim Wynn. It was Wynn's home run in the eighth inning that had tied the contest.

Up to the plate strode Lee May, who had already crashed four homers in the young season. Not a man to mess with in a tight game like this. May had already doubled home a run. So the Cubs decided to bypass the slugging first baseman, giving him an intentional walk to get to Bob Watson, hitless in four previous at bats.

Watson didn't take too kindly to this and showed his displeasure with a line-drive double to right center field that sent May scurrying around the bases. And when Chicago center fielder Rick Monday slipped trying to chase down the hit, May was home free, the Astros had a 5-4 victory, their ninth straight, and the Cubs had successive loss No. 8.

In other National League action, Cincinnati held off Pittsburgh 7-6. St. Louis beat Atlanta 9-4. San Francisco overtook Philadelphia 8-6 in 10 innings. Los Angeles blanked Montreal 2-0 and the New York Mets defeated San Diego 5-1.

In the American League, Minnesota beat Boston 3-1, the New York Yankees turned back Oakland 4-2. California tamed Milwaukee 3-1. Detroit shelled Texas 8-1, the Chicago White Sox whipped Cleveland 7-5 in 10 innings and, in a rain-shortened 5½-inning contest, Kansas City defeated Baltimore 5-3.

"We don't have just one guy to do the hitting like last year," said Wynn. "Bob Watson is hitting. Lee May is hitting ... and when Lee's not hitting, Bob is. This is a great team—a beautiful team!"

Students Seek Ticket List

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Five students at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock filed suit in Circuit Court here Wednesday asking that they be allowed to inspect and copy the list detailing the Arkansas Razorbacks football ticket disposition for the last three years.

The district includes members of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference, John Brown University and the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.

The AIC recently suspended AM&N from athletic competition for the 1972-73 season.

The AIC took the action because of incidents at AM&N home games and a disturbance at a basketball game in the District 17 playoffs at Arkadelphia earlier this year. AM&N supporters were blamed for the disturbance.

Auburn Smith, chairman of District 17, said the action of the district's executive committee had been approved by the NAIA Executive Committee. He said the suspension would last "until such time as the District 17 NAIA Executive Committee and Arkansas AM&N feel that normal athletic relations can be resumed."

Smith said the committee "acknowledged that the suspension can be lifted as soon as Arkansas AM&N has demonstrated that competition can be resumed under normal athletic conditions."

The AM&N Athletic Committee has voted to withdraw from the AIC. The school's Board of Trustees has postponed voting on the proposal and has asked the AIC for a complete report on the conference's disciplinary action.

Former Hope Player Signs Two Year Coaching Contract

Fielding Huddleston, former player at Hope High School, has recently signed a two-year contract as head football coach at Hallsville High School in Hallsville, Texas.

Huddleston said the Hallsville offer was too good to turn down and that the outstanding athletic facilities at Hallsville's class AA school "weighed heavily" in his decision to move. The school has a new $400,000 complex which includes a new $100,000 field house, a new eight lane, all weather track, and a one year old football stadium.

Huddleston is completing his 16th year at Paul H. Hewitt High School in Naples-Omaha, Texas and will succeed Coach Walter Gideon who has been appointed athletic director and will assist Huddleston along with six other coaches on the staff.

Since migrating from Stamps, Arkansas, only 20 miles from his home town of Hope, Huddleston has compiled a 106-60-8 won-lost record at the Morris County school. Huddleston's career coaching record is 196-63-6.

Mrs. Huddleston also was hired by the school board to teach in the Hallsville elementary school.

The Huddlestons will be moving to Hallsville sometime in June with their children, Leslie 21, a junior pharmacy student at the University of Texas, Gary 19, student at Kilgore College, Kent 13, Tami 12, and Holly 9. The Huddlestons invite all their Arkansas friends to visit them anytime they are in the Hallsville area.

El Paso has moved two games ahead of the opposition in the Western Division of the Texas League and Memphis and Alexandria are now tied for first in the Eastern Division.

Continuing to rely on strong pitching, El Paso benefited Wednesday night from another stellar performance by left-hander Geoff Zahn. He struck out 10 batters and walked only two as he shut out Midland 2-0 with a five-hitter for his third victory without a loss.

El Paso scored its two in the eighth inning off Nacho Bracamontes and relief pitcher Ralph Pipes.

In the other Western Division game, righthander Pat Russell won his second straight, hurling a five-hitter as he led Amarillo to a 6-2 verdict over San Antonio.

Russell struck out 13 batters and allowed only one earned run, the first he had permitted in 20 innings. It was his second consecutive five-hitter. He shut out Midland 7-0 Friday.

Kevin Kobel and John Conzatti of San Antonio also yielded just five hits between them, but they walked nine men and had a wild pitch, a passed ball and a balk, plus two throwing errors by catcher Dennis Parks.

In the Eastern Division, Alexandria topped Arkansas 7-4 and Memphis lost to Shreveport 2-1, creating the tie for first between Alexandria and Memphis.

Rice led the SWC round-robin competition with a 35-7 record. Southern Methodist was second with a 33-9 mark.

Nicklaus Favored in Nelson Classic

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Nicklaus is favored. Lee Trevino, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper are on hand. But Bruce Crampton may be the chief challenger for the title in the $125,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

Crampton, an Australian now living in Dallas, hasn't won all season but he's been seventh or better eight times, has been in position to win half a dozen times and pushed his season earnings to more than $70,000 when he tied for fourth in last week's prestigious Tournament of Champions.

"The way he's playing, he could break through and win two or three in a row," one pro tour official said today before the curly haired veteran teed off in the first round.

"He just grinds it out, week after week," said the official, "just like one of those old slave galleys. You can just see him pulling at an oar and hear the drum beating in the background. Grinding it out."

"He's a thrifty player," said Fred Marti. "I played with him a couple of weeks ago. He really didn't play all that well, but he finished with a 67. He hit those good shots when he had to, didn't miss a putt inside six feet and got just all he could out of the round."

"I just try to score as well as I can, eliminating the money at stake from my mind," said Crampton, a 36-year-old who has won 10 tour titles and more than $750,000 in his 16-year career.

The strong, solidly built Crampton, whose parents wanted him to be a tennis player, in recent years has been one of the most consistent, but least publicized, players on the pro golf tour. He has won at least one title and a minimum of $100,000 in each of the last four seasons.

But he didn't even make expenses the first five years in this country. He got his game together in 1962, won three tournaments and $56,000, then broke through the top echelon

Crampton is an intense competitor on the course but friendly and pleasant when he gets away from his work.

"You don't see football players smiling in a huddle, do you?" he asked.

Nicklaus, however, remained the solid favorite for the $25,000 first prize in this 72-hole event that ends Sunday. He's won three times this season, has accumulated more than $54,000 in purses and is gunning for a third consecutive title in this tournament.

Truce in Tennis

LONDON (AP) — The world's top tennis stars are returning to Forest Hills—possibly this year—and to Wimbledon in 1973.

And the contract pros—Rod Laver, Arthur Ashe and the rest—will be able to play in the Davis Cup again provided the Davis Cup nations agree to admit them.

Warring tennis officials, after nine months of quarrelling over money, announced Wednesday a new formula for open tennis in which all players will be free to compete anywhere.

Lamar Hunt, Texan boss of the World Championship Tennis professional group, told a news conference he will soon have no players under contract and will offer no guarantees.

Instead he will spend four months each year staging tournaments with prize money totaling $1.25 million dollars. For these events he will pay sanction fees to the International Lawn Tennis Federation, the world ruling body with which he has been at loggerheads since last summer.

The I.L.T.F. will promote tournaments for the other eight months of the year.

Allan Heyman, Danish-born president of the I.L.T.F., sat beside Hunt at the conference and said he envisaged between $3 million and $4 million in prizes every year.

Kiwanis Sponsors Honors Banquet for Prescott High Students

The Kiwanis Club of Prescott will give recognition on Friday night, April 28, at 7:30 p.m., to students in Prescott High School, who have made outstanding academic achievement during the previous semester. The banquet which is given in honor of these students will be catered and served in the Prescott Elementary Auditorium. The parents or guardian of the honored students and the Kiwanian wives will also be guests of the club.

The speaker for the occasion is Dr. Bob Riley, Lieutenant Governor of the State of Arkansas. Dr. Riley has long been a real friend of education and young people since his career has included teaching political science at Ouachita Baptist University. While a freshman in college he was elected to the House of Representatives in which he served two terms; an honor at a young age.

Dr. Riley is a veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps and was wounded in action at Guam in July, 1944 as a Rifle Squad Leader. He has consistently fought in various ways for veteran's rights.

He is married to the former Claudia Zimmerman and has one daughter, Megan, age eleven. The special music for the banquet is to be provided by David Hanning accompanied by Mrs. Hanning. Students who will receive the honor awards this year are:

Grade 10
Billie Bolton, Linda Brown, Pam Cottingham, Jane Hill, Mary Kathryn Hunter, Donna Langston, Demetria Latin.

Grade 12
Bonnie Adams, Linda Brackman, Deborah Bolls, Vicki Ewell Collins, Mary Alice Easterling, Larry Fincher.

Grade 11
Herman Brown, Richard Deaton, Dwayne East, Dan Fincher, Vickie Henry, Larry Inscore.

Richard McGough, John McWilliams, Ann Morehead,

Angela Payne, Danny Stewart, Jeff Watson.

Billie Bolton, Linda Brown, Pam Cottingham, Jane Hill, Mary Kathryn Hunter, Donna Langston, Demetria Latin. Hilton McDonald, Tony Meeks, Perry Nelson, Russell Royston, Nancy Reyenga, Jack Douglas Tomlin.

To be considered in this group of honorees a student in the 10th, 11th, or 12th grades must have earned a 3.5 grade average for the first semester or have an accumulated 3.5 grade average with a 3.2 for the first semester. They must also be recommended to receive this honor by the high school administration.

To Create Two New Parks

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark. (AP) — The state Parks, Recreation and Travel Commission has taken initial steps to create two new state parks.

The commission has voted to accept Lake Bennett and the surrounding Woolly Hollow Recreation Area in Faulkner County for a park. In addition, it also has issued a letter of intent to the Soil Conservation Service to develop a state park on Cain Creek in Lincoln County near Star City.

The 1971 legislature appropriated $45,000 for Lake Bennett.

W. E. Henderson, director of the state Department of Parks and Tourism, said Saturday after a commission meeting that the money would be used to buy up a lease from a concessionaire who has been operating the area.

The 373-acre recreation site will then be donated to the department by Faulkner County, Henderson said.

North Vietnam Renews Attack

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces renewed their attack below the demilitarized zone today. U.S. Navy ships battled patrol boats in the Tonkin Gulf and American fighter-bombers flew more strikes inside North Vietnam.

The U.S. Command said three North Vietnamese patrol boats were sunk and a fourth heavily damaged Wednesday after they attacked the cruiser Oklahoma City and the destroyers Richard B. Anderson and Gurke. The U.S. ships were not damaged, the command said.

North Vietnamese tanks, artillery and infantry opened the fifth week of Hanoi's big offensive with attacks on four sides of Quang Tri City. South Vietnam's northernmost provincial capital, 19 miles below the DMZ.

A tank and infantry battle erupted five to six miles northwest of the threatened city. The South Vietnamese command claimed eight North Vietnamese tanks were destroyed and 70 enemy soldiers killed. It reported seven South Vietnamese soldiers killed and 12 wounded but reported no South Vietnamese tanks lost.

In the central highlands, the quiet for the third day. But on the central coast enemy troops increased pressure on the district town of Bong Son with mortar and rocket attacks and threatened to take over the entire northern sector of Binh Dinh Province, the least pacified in South Vietnam.

Other North Vietnamese forces kept up the 22-day old siege of An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon, with a 1,500-round artillery attack that killed 10 South Vietnamese and wounded 65. New assaults were launched against the district town of Dau Tieng, 30 miles southwest of An Loc.

The weekly casualty summaries issued today disclosed that South Vietnamese forces suffered their heaviest casualties of the war last week and that American battlefield casualties were the heaviest in six months.

The South Vietnamese command reported 1,149 of its troops killed and 3,376 wounded, a total for the past three weeks of the enemy offensive of 2,792 dead and 8,198 wounded.

The U.S. Command said 10 Americans were killed in action, eight were missing and 78 were wounded last week.

Annual Meeting Now Only a Ritual

NEW YORK (AP) — If J. B. Fuqua has his way another grand old American tradition will fade into the past.

The annual shareholder meeting, he says, has ceased to function. In many companies it is now only a ritual.

J. B., who heads Fuqua Industries, Inc., a $400 million-a-year company with 15,000 shareholders in all 50 states and many foreign countries, held its annual meeting in Atlanta, Ga., this month. Eleven outside stockholders showed.

There was no reason for anyone to bother coming, he says. There was nothing to be done at the meeting that hadn't been settled in advance. There was no way their vote could have affected proceedings.

"If people attend annual meetings at all these days," he maintains, "they do so as spectators. They have already voted by proxy. And if they had any knowledge at all they'd know their vote at the meeting is futile."

He concedes that in the old days the annual affair did have meaning. "Stockholders typically lived in the community where the business was located and could attend stockholder meetings in person," he wrote in the annual meeting notice.

"There is nothing inherently democratic in an American corporation," he explained. "It is sheer economic power. There is nothing done at a meeting unless somebody shows up with a majority of votes in hand."

In a democracy, he continued, each man has one vote. In a corporation, voting power is determined by wealth, in the form of shares.

Why, then, did J. B. Fuqua, who thinks corporate democracy is a myth and an annual meeting an irritant and waste, hold a meeting just as if thousands of shareholders were in the audience? The Securities and Exchange Commission doesn't insist on a meeting.

Respect for tradition, he replied.

Most shareholders vote by mail, he said, and there is evidence that not only are they satisfied to do so but that they too think the annual meeting is a wasted effort.

Communication is more effective when privately accomplished via letter or telephone call than at the annual meeting, he said.

But, it was suggested to him, corporation presidents aren't accessible. He insisted they

Medical Group Adopts Uniform Pay Plan

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Medical Society voted Wednesday to seek a standard method of making medicare payments throughout the state.

No immediate adverse reaction was reported to the vote even though a society spokesman had said Tuesday that the "feathers would hit the fan" if such a recommendation was made because it would mean lower payments to doctors in Little Rock and Fort Smith.

Arkansas is divided into five regions and the fees for some patients vary from region to region. The Medical Society wants to make the entire state a single region. Little Rock and Fort Smith are in Region One, which receives top payments.

The vote to ask the federal government to standardize its payments was 64-11. There was no heated debate on the issue.

The society followed a recommendation by its Reference Committee in voting for a single region. The committee's report said the "government should compensate a taxpayer for his or her medical expenses equally, whether they live in a large metropolitan area or a small rural area."

The report said medicare payments should be standardized to encourage physicians to practice in rural areas.

The society also voted to ask Gov. Dale Bumpers and the legislature to establish a two-year associate nurses degree program in every college and university in the state.

In other action, the society: — Rejected a Greene-Clay counties society resolution to ask the American Medical Association to require all medical graduates to engage in family practice for two years before entering specialized fields. The society said the resolution was unworkable.

— Rejected a proposal by the society in Independence County asking the legislature to make certain all beds at the University of Arkansas Medical Center at Little Rock are utilized and that the hospital be run on a patient's ability to pay.

The society elected Dr. John Wood of Mena as its president-elect to take office in 1973. Dr. Robert Watson of Little Rock took over as president in a ceremony Tuesday night.

Lobbyist Questions Use of Corporation Owned Jets

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Peter G. Peterson recently accepted a free ride to Chicago aboard a jet owned by Standard Oil of Indiana.

But an aide said it was the only time since taking office in February that the secretary has ridden on a corporate plane.

Undersecretary of Interior William T. Pecora is another high administration official who recently took a free ride on a company jet, traveling to South Dakota and back courtesy of Northern Natural Gas of Omaha, Neb.

But Pecora, too, insisted it was the only time he has ever accepted such a favor.

The question of corporations making their private airplanes available for government officials was raised last month by lobbyist Dita Beard of International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. Mrs. Beard, a key figure in the Senate's investigation of ITT's relations with the Republican administration, said some members of Congress made liberal use of the company's jet fleet.

Singled out by name was Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind. The senator, said Mrs. Beard, considered ITT "a sort of personal taxicab company."

To find out how much use is made of company jets by officials, the Associated Press staked out at Washington's National Airport for five days.

In addition to Peterson and Pecora, six senators and two members of the House were seen departing or returning to Washington aboard corporation-owned jets.

They were Sens. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga.; Milton Young, R-N.D.; Lawton Chiles, D-Fla.; William Spong, D-Va.; Harry F. Byrd, a Virginia independent, and Peter Dominick, R-Colo., and Reps. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., and Rep. John S. Monagan, D-Conn.

An investigation of the individuals and companies involved, did not turn up any evidence of outright conflict of interest, although in almost every case there were strong common ties.

Most of those spotted at the airport indicated they saw nothing wrong with accepting the favors, but some did, including Pecora and the lobbyist who ferried the undersecretary and Sen. Young halfway across the continent and back.

Asked if his company made a practice of offering transportation to members of Congress and government officials, Lynn Mote, head of government relations for Northern Gas, replied:

"No, no. Because of the implication put on it. We don't do it as a general rule because it is easily misunderstood."

This wariness apparently is shared by the pilot of Southern Railway's twin-prop Grumman Gulfstream. "When are you going to leave my passengers alone?" asked the pilot, a short, stocky and very angry man who declined to give his name.

No official was aboard Southern's plane when that comment was made last Friday, but one week before, the plane took Sen. and Mrs. Talmadge home to Georgia.

Riding along with Talmadge, who is chairman of the Agriculture Committee, was John Duncan, head of Southern's agribusiness services.

"If I could be bought with a free plane ride," said Talmadge, "I don't belong in the Senate."

Secretary of Commerce Peterson flew to Chicago on Standard Oil's four-engine Lockheed jet last Friday, taking with him his 16-year-old son and two aides. He was going to Chicago to present a minority business award, to launch a new council to encourage industry to use minority suppliers, and to speak at a Republican dinner.

Philip Drotning, director of urban affairs for Standard Oil, said in an interview he had been in the Commerce Department's Office of Minority Business Enterprises that afternoon and had mentioned the company plane was going back to Chicago. "It seemed silly for them to fly commercial when we were both going to the same place," he said.

As secretary of commerce, Peterson is the administration's leading envoy to the business world.

Interior Undersecretary Pecora said his flight on the Northern Natural Gas plane April 13 was arranged by the office of Sen. Young.

The undersecretary was the principal speaker at a dinner that night in Sioux Falls, S.D., marking the start of construction on a $10-million federal installation to store weather and other information from satellites.

Lobbyist Mote said Northern is interested in the project because it will generate 1,000 jobs and the company hopes new residents will buy natural gas.

Pecora said he didn't know the plane belonged to Northern until just before he boarded it. He added that lobbyist Mote never raised any questions dealing with the policy of Interior, which has responsibility for natural gas.

On Friday, April 7, Sen. Chiles, a Democrat who won election in 1970 with a campaign based on hiking the length of Florida, boarded a British-made Falcon jet registered to GAC Rental Corp., of Miami, a subsidiary of GAC Corp., one of Florida's largest land developers.

Chiles was heading home to make a walk-through of Big Cypress Swamp which the Nixon administration wants to designate as a federal water preserve. The Senator introduced the administration bill to take over the swamp.

A spokesman for GAC said the company supports the takeover but has no direct interest because it owns little or no land inside the swamp although it has some nearby.

Chiles, in an interview, said the plane ride home (the plane was headed for Miami but dropped him off at Lakeland) was offered by "the president of one of their corporations" at a meeting in his office. He said he couldn't remember the man's name.

Moving to Suburbs Means Readjusting

By JAMES R. NORMAN
Associated Press Writer
MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP) —

The move from a city apartment to a suburban house means different things to different people. To me, it's largely a matter of readjusting my approach to traditional chores.

Take spring cleaning, the traditional time to pick up the carpet and follow the directions of a knowledgeable supervisor—usually female—on where the furniture looks best for the bright season.

"Put the couch there, why don't you, and maybe we could move the bookcase over against that wall," she says.

"Unhhh."

But if you think your back's hurting you now, city-dweller, just try fitting yourself into this suburban scene:

10 p.m. The nursery at the nearby highway shopping center has closed at 9:30. Headlights probe the living room as what you normally would expect to be a car swerves into the driveway.

But it's not a car. It's a military transport of some type, covered with jungle camouflage. No, wait a minute. Under that foliage, it's baby blue, so it can't be a tank.

The door slams.

"Guess what?" she announces. "I have flowered crab, three dogwoods, a cherry tree, a plum tree, a peach tree, and silver maple, a popular tree, three lilacs and a weeping willow."

"Oh?" That willow and I are going to get to understand each other, it occurs to me.

"They told me we have to plant them when it's cool out."

"Yeah."

"It's supposed to be really hot tomorrow."

"Unhhh."

"It's cool now."

"So it is." An astute observation.

"I bought a shovel, too."

"Okay, where do you want 'em?" I always was a gracious

ELEMENTS OF COMMUNICATION: Science Demonstrator Curt Johnston of Southwestern Bell holds the 485 parts of a telephone next to a table of elements. It's his way to show that of the 104 known elements, 97 are used in today's telephone service. Johnston demonstrates some of the unusual chemical properties during his program, "From Test Tube to Trimline—The Chemistry of Communications."

Ways the sun's intense energy may someday be harnessed as a power source will be demonstrated Tuesday, May 2 at a meeting of the Hope Kiwanis and Friday, May 5 at Rotary Club.

No Action Planned on Student Boycott

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The vice president for student affairs at Arkansas Tech said Wednesday his office did not plan action against students who boycotted peacefully.

Dr. Bill Baker said, however, that his office would make certain that any students who wanted to attend classes would be able to do so.

About 80 to 90 per cent of the students at Tech boycotted classes Wednesday to protest academic reorganization at the college, alleged reprimands attached to contracts of some teachers and changes in the faculty.

Wednesday's boycott was termed "just a presentation of sentiment" by Mike Wheeler of Fort Smith, president of the Tech Student Senate.

Wheeler told a group of students that "a lot of people want quick results. I don't think there are going to be any."

Wheeler said the boycott demonstrated that the students were united.

"I think it was unfortunate that a thing like this had to happen," Wheeler said. "We don't want suspension of classes. What we want is an education. But we have found the channels of communication clogged up."

Five members of the student government and Baker reportedly met with two members of the Tech Board of Trustees Tuesday night at Harrison.

"The students came away with information they didn't have before," Baker said. "It was a very frank discussion. The students presented their grievances and the board members explained their positions."

Wheeler said of the meeting that the students know the board members are aware of what is going on.

Wheeler told students that reprimands reportedly attached to the 1972-73 contracts of some teachers would not go on the teachers' personal records. He said the reprimands would be destroyed at the end of the year.

Make Phone Booth Arrest

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — "Could you hold the phone a minute and I'll check," Detective Richard Woods asked the man who had telephoned to inquire if Sacramento police wanted him.

Woods hurried to another telephone and called San Francisco police to nab Donald Dean Leiter, 20, who was telephoning from a bus station phone booth in that city.

A few minutes later, while Woods was talking to Leiter, a San Francisco policeman broke into the conversation to announce the arrest was made.

Leiter was returned to Sacramento for investigation of six holdups and four car thefts, Woods said.

$37,200 FHA Loan Approved

WASHINGTON, AP — A loan of $37,200 to the Gray Rock Water Users Association (Logan County) to finance a community water system has been approved by the Farmers Home Administration.

The system will serve 45 families, according to the office of Rep. John Paul Ham-merschmidt, R-Ark.

U.S. Reconciled to Limited Loss to Territory to Hanoi

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON, AP — The United States insists that North Vietnam pull its invading troops back across the demilitarized zone, but appears reconciled to some limited loss of territory to Hanoi's forces elsewhere in South Vietnam.

Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, President Nixon's national security adviser, left this impression Wednesday night in discussing with newsmen the conditions under which the United States would halt its renewed bombing of military targets in North Vietnam.

In his report to the nation, Nixon said: "I have ordered that our air and naval attacks on military installations in North Vietnam be continued until the North Vietnamese stop their offensive in South Vietnam."

During a briefing on the speech, Kissinger was asked whether Hanoi must withdraw its forces back across the DMZ or just halt the invasion, which could mean retaining territory already overrun by the North Vietnamese.

"It is our position that the forces that crossed the DMZ should withdraw across the DMZ," Kissinger said, noting that the North Vietnamese had not penetrated very far into South Vietnam and implying they would be giving up much by pulling back.

However, Kissinger avoided a direct reply when a reporter asked whether the same withdrawal requirement applies to other North Vietnamese troops which Nixon said had "invaded South Vietnam further south."

The President's national security adviser declined to discuss "what precise positions we will take" in the resumed peace negotiations with the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong representatives in Paris.

At another point, Kissinger said that defeating the invasion "does NOT mean NO military gains" for the enemy, adding that "obviously" some gains will be made.

Kissinger indicated the offensive could be considered stopped if the enemy fell short of capturing a "very sizable number" of South Vietnamese provincial cities and opening up the countryside to domination by the Communists.

In his speech, Nixon put no geographic limits on U.S. bombing of military targets in North Vietnam. This left open the possibility that American bombers could return to the Hanoi-Haiphong heartland if the renewed Paris talks bog down again and the enemy of offensive makes serious headway in the weeks ahead.

Must Campaign, Says McClellan

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who is seeking re-election, said Wednesday he was not able to tend to business in the Senate because he was forced to return to Arkansas and campaign.

Ted Boswell of Bryant, one of three Democrats opposing McClellan's re-election bid, has charged that McClellan "failed and refused to cooperate" with the Senate Judiciary Committee hearings into International Telephone and Telegraph Corp.

McClellan, a member of the committee, said he had to return to Arkansas because of the stiff opposition he has drawn in the primary.

Wednesday night at Paragould he said that if he had stayed in Washington to tend to business his opponents would say that he did not care enough about the people of Arkansas. McClellan said he expected to be accused of almost everything in the world before the election is over. He said he thought it would be more appropriate for the candidates to talk about their own qualifications and their competence rather than simply make attacks.

Third Time
May Be Charm

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — James L. Dauer, 50, of Imboden probably is thinking that maybe the third time will be the charm.

Dauer, who unsuccessfully sought to run for Congress in the 1st District in 1970, apparently has failed again this year.

He notified county election commissions in the district that he intended to run as a write-in candidate against Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., in the May 30 Democratic primary.

The problem is, authorities said, a person cannot be a write-in candidate in a primary.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred Harrison said he believed Arkansas law permitted no write-in candidacy in primaries. A spokesman in the secretary of state's office shared that opinion.

Max Poe of Pocahontas, secretary of the Randolph County Democratic Committee, said party rules made no provision for a primary election write-in. Joe Purcell, state Democratic party chairman, said he thought there could not be a write-in in the primary.

At Pine Bluff

3,000 Hear Wallace

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama said here Wednesday night that his Democratic presidential nomination campaign is forcing the other candidates and the party to "start listening to the average man."

"They're saying now what I said in 1968 and was called a demagogue for it," he told a news conference.

Later, he told a rally that the reception he has received from the "average man" had forced other presidential nomination-seekers to address themselves to the issues Wallace has been discussing.

"If I dug up a bone, another big old Democrat grabs it and runs off with it," Wallace said.

He said Sen. Hubert Humphrey had followed the Wallace lead in calling for removal of "the welfare loafers" from welfare rolls "and he ought to, since he put most of them on."

"So you see, already our effort and your effort has paid off in fringe benefits, because all of the candidates are now speaking like you and me do," Wallace said.

"You, the average citizen, you're the one that has changed them," he said. "The average man in Arkansas, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania has more political power now than he's ever had in his life."

At the news conference, which preceded the rally, Wallace said the other candidates "are now finding that we were not whistling Dixie, were not whistling in the dark" in 1968.

Americans, he said, are "fed up" with welfare "loafers," "foreign aid giveaways," and breakdown in law and order.

The Wallace campaign crew and entourage came to Pine Bluff on two chartered Texas International airplanes which touched down at Grider Field here shortly after 6 p.m.

Wallace and his wife, Cornelia, shook hands with more than a dozen of the approximately 75 people crowded against a wire fence beside the taxi apron at the airport.

He then began what was planned as a 10-minute news conference, but it lasted more than 30 minutes. Under questioning by newsmen, he first said he would support Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., if Mills became the Democratic presidential nominee.

He noted that he had campaigned only about two hours in Massachusetts and had received considerably more votes than Mills, who campaigned a great deal more in Massachusetts.

Asked why he declined to say he would support Humphrey, George McGovern or Edmund Muskie if they became the presidential nominee, Wallace said they had not said they would support him if he were the nominee.

"If Mr. Mills says he won't support me, I might change my mind (about supporting Mills)," Wallace said with a wink.

Newsmen mentioned that Mills had not said whether he would support Wallace. The Alabama governor then said he would "amend" his statement to make his own position on Mills conform to the position he had taken regarding support for Humphrey, McGovern or Muskie.

Wallace said he came to Arkansas by invitation of state Rep. Frank Henslee of Pine Bluff and not to compete with Mills or anyone else in Arkansas.

From the moment Wallace emerged from a green, four-door Chevrolet sedan on the dirt floor of Hestand Stadium, a roofed but unwallied arena, the audience of more than 2,000, which included perhaps two blacks, responded enthusiastically. Two Confederate flags were waved in one section of the bleachers.

His speech, which lasted about one hour, was interrupted by applause more than 20 times. Before Wallace arrived, plastic buckets for donations to his campaign were passed among the members of the crowd.

His wife appeared with him when he arrived at the speaker's platform, but during much of his speech she sat in the car behind the platform with tears on her face. She said suffered from a painful circulatory affliction. She got out of the car to join him as he waved farewell to the audience.

On foreign aid, Wallace told the throng, "You have to work an extra day a week almost to keep up countries that spit in our faces."

He said some foreign aid money should be reallocated for such things as rapid transit, superhighways, the elderly, and national defense.

Wallace said that he expected other Democratic presidential hopefuls would join him soon in supporting the idea of a constitutional amendment to require that U.S. Supreme Court

Perils of Campaign

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — One of the perils of seeking political office is, in the case of Rep. David Pryor, his campaign headquarters here.

Pryor, seeking the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination, has rented two-story, white frame house in an old Little Rock residential area.

"We understand," a campaign aide said, "that the place will be torn down as soon as we move out."

Tucker Steinmetz, a campaign assistant, said that when dusk falls, the house begins to make noises, creaks and such as old houses will, and also "breathes."

The entire upper story's electricity is on a single fuse, which has blown countless times, by campaign workers' recollection.

On cool days, a plug-in heater functions in the same room as a Xerox machine, which, when used, causes a "brown-out" of the lower story lightbulbs. If the Xerox is used when the heater is on, the fuse blows, Pryor aides laughed.

Harry Barnes, a codirector of the campaign, has stayed in the campaign headquarters on some nights, despite the sounds.

"But I keep a hammer and an ax right by my bed," he said. "One night I heard something and got up. You should have seen me skulking through the house in my skivvies, hammer in hand, ready to kill."

Perhaps the closest shave the house has produced thus far, however, happened to George Wells, reporter for the Pine Bluff Commercial.

Standing one day in the lower-floor kitchen and talking with Barnes, Wells heard an explosion and felt the caress of a breeze on his cheek.

A light fixture, weighted with water that had leaked through the roof, had broken loose, whistling past Wells and smashing on the floor.

"I must have bounced off the roof," Wells said later. "I thought I had been shot."

Draws Suspended Sentence

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Gyrone Buckley, 17, a black Arkadelphia High School pupil, pleaded guilty Wednesday to a charge of inciting to riot in connection with a March 16 disturbance at the Clark County Jail here.

Circuit Court Judge John W. Goodson sentenced Buckley to five years in prison but suspended the sentence.

The disturbance involved about 200 blacks who gathered outside the jail to protest the arrest of several black high school students in connection with a disturbance at the school earlier in the day.

I. V. Chapman, 38, and Alvin H. Pearson, 23, students at Henderson State College here, were found guilty of inciting to riot last week in connection with the disturbance outside the jail.

MacDuff, the best player in Scotland, was mighty happy with the dummy. For once MacBeth had bid his hand so that MacDuff could play it and the slam looked like a mighty good one.

He won the diamond lead with dummy's ace and played the king of hearts. Banquo, sitting East, discarded a spade and all of a sudden the slam looked as if it were doomed to defeat.

Could it be made? MacDuff saw that there was a chance if Donalbane, sitting West, held exactly the right cards. A slim chance is far better than none and MacDuff proceeded to give the cards their chance to work.

He discarded a club on dummy's ace of spades; ruffed a spade; led a club from his hand, noted that Donalbane played the 10 so he finessed dummy's jack.

Things were looking up. He led dummy's last spade and ruffed.

This left him with one trump less than West. He cashed dummy's ace of clubs, led a diamond to his king and another diamond to dummy's queen.

Donalbane was down to trumps and had to ruff in on the next lead. Then he had to lead away from his jack and the great MacDuff had triumphed again.

Of course, it wasn't too great a triumph. The way the cards lay, seven no-trump would make

These attractions, such as flu, a steam bath, and a massage for aching muscles are the things that people who are suffering from a cold or sinusitis should be looking for. 'Flu' Illnesses Caused by Virus

At its regular monthly pack meeting, Pack 93 of Beryl Henry Cub Scouts, was given an informative talk by Sgt. Ray Davis of the Arkansas State Police. Sgt. Davis spoke to the group on bicycle safety. Pack 93 is trying to interest boys in scouting and plans to have similar guest speakers next year. Next pack meeting will be Monday, May 1, at Beryl Henry School at 7:30 p.m.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Dear Dr. Lamb—Will you please comment on the difference between a virus and the flu? Also, how do you get the flu, how do you get rid of it and how do you avoid it? How do you deal with a person who is a carrier, who continues to cough and sneeze without covering his mouth and has had a cold for three months without missing a day's work and expects you to do the same? How come doctors do not prescribe antibiotics to get rid of a three-month cold? Would a steam bath and massage help those aching muscles between the shoulder blades?

of fluids to prevent dehydration and taking medicines to relieve headache and reduce fever if the condition is bad enough to justify this. Whatever treatment is provided for individuals with a virus infection or flu is mainly to treat the symptoms. None of these medicines can actually get rid of the virus. Nature has to do the rest.

Coughing and sneezing without covering the face does disseminate infected droplets, which helps to transmit respiratory infections, including flu. Besides, it is just common courtesy to cover your face when this occurs.

There is no such thing as a cold for three months. Anyone who has symptoms of a "cold" that last more than a week should certainly see a doctor. A "cold" that lasts for three months is something else. It may be an allergy or it may be a chronic lung infection or chronic sinusitis. In any case, it deserves medical attention without further delay.

The reason doctors don't always give antibiotics to treat colds is that unless there is an associated bacterial infection of the throat or sinuses they don't do any good. Antibiotics are not effective against common viruses.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for every service and kindness rendered by our many friends and neighbors during the loss of our loved one.
